have any merit and Taft is simply

POOR PROSPECT

For Wheat Crop In Christian
This Year.

Wheat has not come out as it does sometimer after a severe freezing during the winter and the indications are that the crop in Christian county will be a short one, even with the most favorable weather conditions prevailing the remainder of the season. The May crop report of Commissioner of Agriculture Newman as to the condition of the crop over the state shows about 75 per cent, a decrease of four per cent since May 1. With an acreage of only about 83 per cent, and a condition of 75 per cent, there is not a great prospect for a good wheat crop in the state this year.

Drives off a Terror.

The chief executioner of death in the winter and spring months is pneumonia. Its advance agents are colds and grip. In any attack by one of these maladies no time should be lost in taking the best medicine obtainable to drive it off. Countless thousands have found this to be Dr.
King's New Discovery. "My husband believes it has kept him from having pneumonia three or four times," writes Mrs. George W.
Place, Rawsonville, Vt., "and for coughs, colds and croup we have never found its equal." Guaranteed for all bronchial affections.
Price 50c. and $1.00. Trial bottle free at all druggists.

TRYING NEW PLAN

Turpentine Wash Proves Fatal
To Screw Worms.

Clarksville, Tenn., June 9.—In view of the inroads made by what is called the screw worm, many of the farmers of Montgomery county have been making experiments as to what method could be used to destroy the pest. Prof. P. L. Harned, knowing that turpentine was destructive to all insect life, conceived the idea that this worm could be destroyed by its use. Therefore he prepared a basin of three gallons of water, into which he put one-half pint of turpentine. When he pulled the plants, after washing the roots well he dipped them into the turpentine water and set them out, and so far there has been no effect of the worm found, while other tobacco set without this was suffered very much.

Could Shout for Joy.

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B.
Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no equal. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at all

Could Not Write

Versailles, Ky.—Mrs. Elsie Green of this place, says: "I could not write all the different pains I had, when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains, and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it.
Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the nearest drug store.

COLUMBUS

Memorial Unveiled At Washington With Great Ceremonies.

Washington, June 10.—In the presence of thousands of Knights of Columbus, assembled from all parts of the United States, Mexico and Canada, a handsome $100,000 memorial to Christopher Columbus, discoverer of America, was unveiled here Saturday with ceremonies in which President Taft, members of his cabinet, congressmen, senators and other noted men participated.
Secretary of State Knox presided at the unveiling and the president and cabinet members made addresses.
A picturesque street parade and pageant in which the army and navy representatives and thousands of Knights of Columbus passed in review before the president, speeches by distinguished orators, fireworks and a $10-a-plate banquet were included in the program of the day's festivities.

Strawberries In Warren.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 10.—The strawberry crop of Warren county has been harvested and during the season two hundred cars have been shipped from twelve hundred acres of berries, bringing the farmers of Warren county about $200,000. The growing of strawberries was started in this county five years ago by A. G.
Meador, president of the Warren County Strawberry Growers' Association, George A. Collett, the late Ed Stone and others, forty acres being devoted to them. Last year three hundred acres were put in berries which yielded sixty cars, bringing $2.25 per crate and this year the largest price received was $1.75, which is fifty cents less than last season, but as there were many more berries raised this year, it will bring more money to the growers. On one Monday night there were twenty-nine cars of berries shipped to northern points.

Weather For The Week.

Following is the weather forecast for the present week, according to the bulletin issued at Washington: The indications are that the week will be one of moderate temperature over the greater part of the country, a reaction to normal temperature following several days of unseasonably cool weather over the Middle West and the Southern and Eastern States being probable during the first half of the week. Fair weather will prevail the next several days in the Eastern and Southern States, while an area of low barometric pressure that now covers the Western plateau region will advance slowly eastward and give local rains the first part of the week in the Middle West and the latter part of the week in the Eastern and Southern States.

Prices Fifteen Years Ago.

The following prices prevailed on the Milton market fifteen years ago: Eggs 8 cents; butter, choice, 7 cents; common 4 cents; hens, 6 cents; roosters, 3 cents; turkeys, over fifteen pounds, 8 cents; geese, 5 cents; ducks, 6 cents; goose eggs, 20 cents; and duck eggs, 10 cents. Some difference in the prices now.—Milton

THEIR OWN PROPERTY

WORKING PARTNERS HAD A RIGHT TO INFORMATION.

Fall River Cotton Magnates Have No Right to Feeling of "Consternation" That Business "Secrets" Have Become Known.

"Consternation" and "shocked beyond measure" are among the expressions descriptive of the feelings of some of the Fall River cotton mill magnates.

When the tariff board sought information on which to base the schedules for a proposed revision of the cotton rates, these Massachusetts factory owners opened their books and furnished data. They did not suppose it possible the facts concerning their business ever would be given to the public.

They assert they had no suspicion that their "innermost business secrets" would be tabulated and given to the world. Hence, when tabulation and publicity confront them, "consternation" prevails and they are "shocked beyond measure."

These Fall River gentlemen should take counsel of the teachings of the first principles of philosophy.

What, according to the familiar arguments of the protectionists, is the foundation of the tariff idea? Why, the benefit of the workingmen, of course.

The outcome of that idea is that the employers and the employed are in a partnership, the principal argument for which is the bettering of the condition of the employed.

What, then, could be more logical or more proper than that the partners who do the work should be informed concerning the details of the business?

If, as result of the tariff board's investigations, the working partners have secured such information, they have obtained what was theirs by right. And there should be no occasion for "consternation" on the part of the managing members of the partnership.

Can't "Embarrass" Roosevelt.

In one of his speeches Roosevelt, in answer to a question, "Where's Perkins?" replied: "He's for me. You can't put a question to me that will embarrass me for a moment." No one will dispute the truth of that statement. There are some men—and Roosevelt is one of them, by his own admission—who can not be "embarrassed" by anything. So we are not surprised that, even after Mr. Taft had told the whole truth about Lorimer, and proved that he was, as he always had been, against him, and showed that he had even consulted the third term as to the most effective way to deal with the case in the senate, Roosevelt should say: "Mr.
Taft came here to explain that he did not like Mr. Lorimer, having kept his dislike private and confidential until after he lost Illinois." A man who could say such a thing as that, in the face of proof to the contrary, is beyond the possibility of being "embarrassed." And this is the man who refused information as to the harvester trust to the senate committee, who stopped the suit against the harvester trust, and who carted away to the White House the papers in the Steel trust case lest congress should get hold of them. He is like "the African monarch, the splendid, unabashed, unashamed," and, we hope, "unattended." It is true that you can not put a question to him that will "embarrass" him. It is also true that you can not put one to him—unless you corner him as the man in his audience did—that he will answer.

The Third Term.

Inordinate ambition, a lust for power, a vanity so excessive that it touches the very verge of madness, an utter contempt for the people—for Mr. Roosevelt has always entertained a profound contempt for the people, although, with the craft of the demagogue, he has ever posed as their friend and champion—and a defiance of the wisdom of the fathers of the republic and the teachings of history have combined to make Mr. Roosevelt hunger to occupy the White House for the third time. He is ambitious to be Caesar and to implant Caesarism upon the United States.
To reach the cerule chair he has had to use the dagger of treachery and to trample upon his solemn promises.
For these he cares nothing. He stabs his friend with as little remorse as he shows shame when he is reminded of his repudiated pledge. Utterly without shame, utterly unscrupulous, utterly without conscience or sense of honor, he is willing to do anything, to lend himself to any base plot, to resort to any falsity to become Caesar.
For him the republic exists only as he can make it his personal property.— A. Maurice Low, in Harper's Weekly

Not Mr. Perkins' Method.

Those who read Mr. Perkins' statement of his contributions to campaign purposes understandingly are not likely to think he was trying to give a realistic imitation of Mr. E. Z. Mark.
Mr. Perkins did not acquire his millions or his position as a Morgan partner and director in the greatest trusts ever organized in the world, through paying out money without certainty of getting value for it. He has never been, to put it mildly, known as a philanthropist.

CHAUTAUQUA FACTS
BOILED DOWN. The first Chautauqua in the world was founded in 1873.

There are some 600 Chautauquas in America today.

Nearly 300 of the 600 Chautauquas are directly under Redpath management—the same bureau which is furnishing our Chautauqua.

There are fifty more Chautauquas in the United States today than there were a year ago, our forthcoming Chautauqua being one of the fifty.

The size of the tent to be erected here is 90 x 130 feet.

Three thousand people can be accommodated at all performances.

The tent crews will be composed of college men.

Aid for the Invalid.

A stick of the right sort will help an invalid in many ways. It should be strong, yet light, with a stout iron hook on one end and a knob on the other. This will enable an invalid to adjust curtains, raise and lower shades and windows, push her rolling chair or move a screen, and aid herself in a variety of other ways.

Decrease in Business Failures.

According to the mercantile agencies' reports, there were 197 business failures in the United States for the week ending June 6, as compared with 231 for the preceding week; 232 for a like week of last year, and 180 for the similar week in 1910.

EX-GOVERNOR E. W. HOCH.

HON. E. W. HOCH, one of the speakers at the Chautauqua this season, was twice elected governor of Kansas and is today one of the most popular men in the state. While governor he accomplished many notable things. Among the things which he championed and which crystallized into law during his administration were an anti-pass law, a drastic pure food law, a state wide primary election law, two cent railroad fare, a depository law for state funds, yielding nearly $2,000,000 per month to the state; an entire change of management in state institutions, putting them on a civil service business basis and resulting in wonderful increase in their efficiency. Oil legislation was enacted which made possible in three years the establishment of nineteen successful independent oil refineries and an annual saving of $1,000,000 to the consumers of coal oil alone in Kansas.
